

Biography: Jackie Allinson

Jackie Allinson is an experienced HSE consultant having served oil and gas sector multinationals since 1993; working and travelling in S.E Asia (based in Brunei); MENA, (based in Dubai). She is a postgraduate with degrees in Geology/Geography and Information Technology. She is also a certified coach and business continuity specialist.

In Brunei, Jackie was most proud of her work developing HSE Cases for offshore production platforms, oil rigs, refineries, gas plants, maritime and helicopter operations. This fantastic learning experience plus some great mentors, led her to become an expert in HSE risk management. Moving to Dubai, Jackie was initially involved in creating HSE processes and worker safety publications for Shell Iran project. She was then seconded into Qatar Shell to help execute a fastest ever project start-up. She handled all of the HSE provisions required to get a Greenfield drilling program underway. Armed with this experience, she did the same for Shell in Algeria, Libya and Egypt. She then consulted in Iraq for BP and in Dubai for Shell Markets Middle East on crisis, emergency response systems and business continuity.

Jackie achieved her first coaching certification in 2009, thereafter completing systems coaching training, workshop design and a one-year Leadership programme. For Maersk Oil, she created a unique alignment workshop involving coaching skills, designed to define industry client/contractor relationships in their start-up phases. This ran for several years and covered more than eight separate major rig/service contracts and included all levels of management. Most recently in Oman, Jackie has focused on bringing a coaching approach into industry crisis and emergency response team leadership and training. Jackie is the author of three workbooks on coaching and has just completed the draft of a forth book with the working title "The Good HSE Book".

Jackie is professional, dynamic, energetic and passionate and has spent her oilfield career defining innovative and inclusive processes, promoting cross-company communications, teamwork and individual empowerment as well as making workplaces safe, fair and comfortable in service of an incident-free environment.

Jackie is married, loves travelling, gardening and is a qualified chef.

iNNOVATIVE HSE

Mob: +357 99762924, +44 7851617389

Email: jackie@innovativehse.com

---